Discussion: The experimental design, involving drawing two measurements on each line in the 10 min period to change in the probability of the subject's response, as well as the fact that subjects were not aware of the change, however the experiment was subject to a number of shortcomings. It was the responsibility of the experimenter to set up the test and he was not able to control such as the time intervals of the testing, as well as the time between the two drawings. There was also a time interval between the two drawings, which was not controlled for. The subjects were not aware of the change in the probability of the response, which was not controlled for.
